FRIENDSHIP, CHIVALRY,

For the love of SERVICE SINCE 1910

Tau Epsilon Phi is a national men's fraternity founded at Columbia University in New York, NY on October 19, 1910 on the principles of friendship, chivalry, and service. Formed by a group of 10 Jewish men who were excluded from membership in other fraternities due to their faith, they dedicated themselves to building an organization free from discrimination.

The purpose of this document is to clearly communicate the Tau Epsilon Phi brand and provide distinct guidelines for the usage of our visual identity. It is our intent to encourage the creation of further brand awareness and increase the value of our brand equity. These guidelines will show proper use of the logos and brand imagery for chapters, alumni, and partners.

The Tau Epsilon Phi Fraternity Inc. (Tau Epsilon Phi) is the exclusive owner of all Tau Epsilon Phi trademarks, Greek symbols Tau-Epsilon-Phi ($TE\Phi$,) Crest, Creed, Badges, and the informal use of "TEP". These trademarks may only be used by authorized parties which already includes our undergraduate and alumni members in good standing, alumni associations recognized by the National Fraternity, the Grand Council, and staff. Products may not be produced or sold by any person or organization without a licensing or written agreement from the National Fraternity.

Tau Epsilon Phi trademarks are not to be used with:

- Any depiction of alcohol, drugs, or brands associated with alcohol or drugs
- Any depiction aimed at harming or demeaning ethnicities, religion, or culture
- Any depiction relating to harming or demeaning of a person's gender or sexual identity
- All intent of incorrect brand usage

The Tau Epsilon Phi Brand

Tau Epsilon Phi has always been a brand of diversity and acceptance for those of any race, religion, creed, or culture. Our history, time and time again shows how our organization is one of moving past individual differences and inequalities to come together for the betterment of our communities. This has led to the strengthening of our illustrious brotherhood spanning over 110 years. Our pillars are a testament to how each member should resonate with Tau Epsilon Phi. Friendship is to not judge others by their background but to accept those through common ideals. Pushing for the betterment of your fellow man in the Nobelist of actions. Chivalry is to be true to our ideals and hold others accountable to love and care for others and to defend that honor. Service is a love of the betterment of your fellow man and communities close and afar, to better not only those around you but those who come after you. These pillars encourage Tau Epsilon Phi men to be leaders, scholars, men of action and peace, and a to develop a reputation for excellence. This is what our brand is, wanting the same basic expectations of the brothers around you, and keeping true to the ideals of our founders.

Tau Epsilon Phi Official Crests

Benning Crest

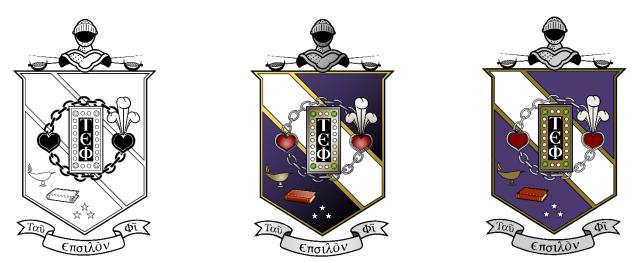

Created in 2013 after a review that many versions of the crest were in use and often displayed incorrect imagery. It became obvious that a new crest was needed for the future. Updated and re-designed by brother J.R. Benning (Σ – Syracuse Univ.,) this brought the crest into this new age for Tau Epsilon Phi.

Founders Crest

Our founders original crest as drawn by Brother Benjamin Klein (Δ – Cornell University) design from 1913 brought into the digital age. Image: Tau epsilon phi fraternity

Reconstruction Crests

In 2020, our team decided to work with their marketing partners at Affinity Consulting to clean up the crest for modern marketing. These three versions were the results of their work to update the crest to be more concise to our brand and easier to use with most forms of media. These versions are currently approved for official documents, marketing, and partnerships.

Shingle and Membership Card Crest

This crest resembles a version of the crest that existed mainly in the in the 1980's & 1990's. This crest is used exclusively for our membership certificates and cards and recently was added to includes the fraternity's new bid cards.

Tau Epsilon Phi Official Mascot

The official mascot of Tau Epsilon Phi, the Knight is the representation of our three pillars of friendship, chivalry, and service. The mascot has certain key elements on it that align with our brand imagery taken from our crest.

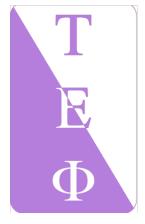

In conjunction with our partners at Affinity Marketing and with input from multiple focus groups with members from our chapters at Rutgers Camden, RPI, Rowan, Buffalo, Indiana, and Maryland, we are able to present you this form of our new mascot.

The Tau Epsilon Phi Knight, holds his sword with emeralds and pearls around the hilt. $TE\Phi$ is engraved on the bottom of his blade to distinguish the knight with our letters. He holds a heart chained up with the links and its gauntlets brandishing the stars. These elements are found within the mystics of our fraternity and the meaning behind those elements pair to be true to the precepts of knighthood. Humble but proud, the knight stands to represent our fraternities' principals and demonstrate our strong brotherhood.

TEP

Tau Epsilon Phi is commonly referred to as T-E-P or TEP when pronounced. There exist numerous other organizations outside of the Greek world that use this phrase as their own recognition too. Our intent is not to take another organizations identity but to adopt this within our ranks, as it is already very present within the greater Greek community. Please use the Greek letter format whenever possible but this page should provide some clarification on the usage of TEP in documents, social media posts and more.

It has often been said that TEP is short for Tau Epsilon Rho which is another professional fraternal organization. Following research, Tau Epsilon Rho refer to themselves as TER and not TEP, so this misconception is in fact not a reality.
